In some cases, we can give a fixed price from the start, while in other cases it is not possible to estimate the final settlement, as the scope and complexity of the case is not yet known. In these cases, we inform you about the principles for settlement, as well as which hourly rates the employees who work with your case settle based on.
 - 2.4.2. At the start of the case, we also disclose known expected expenses to persons other than the lawyer, e.g. court fees, registration fees, expenses for inspection and estimation, notary, etc. If we have provided an estimate of the costs of the case which cannot be met because the case is developing, we will send a new estimate.

The company may request pre-payment of our fees and expenses and costs prior to starting the work.

2.6. Legal aid and legal expenses insurance

2.6.1. At the start of the case, the company investigates whether it is possible to obtain legal aid or seek legal aid cover from an insurance company.

2.6.2. Legal aid is only relevant if there is a lawsuit and free legal aid only covers from the time the case is filed with the court, i.e., not the work that precedes it. As a rule, you can only get free legal aid if you have a reasonable prospect of winning the case. Free legal aid does not cover case processing by public authorities or councils and boards, e.g. the Immigration Service, SIRI, the Agency of Family Law etc.

2.6.3. In order to be granted legal aid, you must meet the financial conditions stated on Civilstyrelsens website (LINK).

2.6.4. As we do not automatically receive information about salary income and marital status, it is the client's own responsibility to make the lawyer aware if income conditions change during the case, e.g., because you become unemployed or single, and you therefore meet the conditions for free legal aid.

- 2.6.5. Legal aid insurance is also only relevant in the case of legal proceedings. Legal expenses insurance works in such a way that a lawyer must apply for coverage for a proposed or brought lawsuit.
- 2.6.6. If legal aid or legal aid coverage is granted in a case where the court is located in a city other than Copenhagen, there will be "travel reservations", i.e., the court/insurance company will not pay for choosing a lawyer who has an office in a city other than the court. The company may ask the client to pay the positive costs of the case itself, including transport by car, train, or plane as well as our travel time at half an hourly rate. If this applies, then the client will be informed in advance.
